HABEAS CORPUS FOR THORN

WILLIAM F. HOWE APPLIES TO JUSTICE TRUAX

TO BE ARGUED TO-DAY-DISTRICT-ATTORNEY OL-COTT HAS NO FEAR THAT THE PRISONER

WILL BE RELEASED. A move that surprised District-Attorney Ofcott as made yesterday by William F. Howe, counsel for Martin Thorn. It had the appearance of an attempt to secure the release of the man who is under indictment for the supposed murder of William Guldensuppe, and it filled the District-Attorney and his assistants with amazement. When person is locked up in the Tombs under an indictcharging murder in the first degree, it is a most unheard-of thing for the prisoner's counsel to ask for release on ball, but Mr. Howe went be fore Jystice Fruax, in the Supreme Court, yesterday, and actually procured from the Justice a writ of habeas corpus, directing the Warden of the City Prison to produce Thorn in court to-day, when Mr. will argue a motion for Thorn's release.

The petition upon which the writ was granted by Justice Truax declares that Thorn was arrested n the charge of having killed Guldensuppe Queens County, and that Mrs. Nack is jointly charged with the murder Mrs. Nack and Thorn were partly examined before Magistrate Flammer, tition says, but while the examination was pending the District-Attorney presented the case to the Grand Jury, which found the indictment for An application by Thorn's counsel for a the testimony before the Grand Jury was denied by Judge Newburger, in the Court of Gen-Thorn is declared to be ignorant of evidence against him and unable to prepare a The petition also declares that Thorn believes that Guidensuppe is still alive, and that the District-Attorney has no proof of the death of Guldensuppe. Therefore Thorn prays that he may be admitted to ball as a matter of justice.

The argument on the petition for bail will be heard by Justice Truax at 10:30 a. m. to-day. District-Attorney Olcott and two or three of his assistants were bosy yesterday examining wit-Building that an effort would be made to in the case transferred to Queens County. District-Attorney Olcott said that office would go ahead and prepare the case for There are two things, he said, that must be proved by the people-first, that a crime has been second, that a part of it was nitted in this county. In order to lay the foundation for this, the witnesses will be examined. and if it is then found that the case cannot stand here it will be transferred to Queens County. Olcott said that all he wanted was justice in the He said he was satisfied that the law permitted the trial of the case in this county as it now The Queens County Grand Jury does not meet until September, and the evidence in the case will be in shape by that time.

Mr. Oleott said he was sure that Judge Newburger would sustain the indictments against Mrs. Nack and Thorn. He believed them to be perfectly good.

A MYSTERIOUS BAND OF RUSSIANS.

THEY ARRIVE ON THE PATRIA AND ARE SAID TO BRING A LARGE SUM OF MONEY.

band of Russians, reputed on board ship to be gypsies, arrived in Hoboken last evening on board the Hamburg-American Line steamship Patria. There are about fifty in the party, including men, women and children. The band is bound for the interior and, it is said, will form a colony in either Louisiana or Kentucky. They have with them a chest which is securely locked and bound. Rumor aboard ship said it contained over $100,000. This est is constantly guarded by two of the party. Last night on the deck of the Patria the two were sitting on the chest. At Quarantine ey refused to leave their charge, and the doctor examined them as they stood beside the chest.

The leader of the party is a tall, rather fine-looking man. His authority appears to be undisputed. He was in this country, he said, about ten years ago, and knows all about it. He speaks fairly good English, with a pronounced accent which at times makes it difficult to understand him. His wife had a necklace that excited the wonder and admiration of all who saw it. It is made out of United States of all who saw it. It is made out of United States twenty-dollar goldpleces and pearls. The pearls are farge and apparently valuable. During the trip across the party had nothing to do with the other passengers, and as little as possible with the officers of the ship, and, when occasion demanded, the leader always acted as spokesman.

Last night the leader said he had expected the newspapers would hear of his party, but he preferred not to have anything written about it.

EXAMINING THE ROOF TANKS.

The twenty-four inspectors who were assigned by President Wilson of the Health Department to investigate the condition of water tanks in the tenement districts made their second report yesterday.

The district on which they reported was bounded on the south by East Forty-fourth-st., on the west by Fifth-ave., on the north by Fifty-seventh-st. and on the east by the East River. There were 178 tanks inspected, and fifty-nine out of the numher were ordered cleaned. Twelve of the inspectors yesterday took in the district on the East Side from Fifty-seventh-st, north to the Harlem River. from Fitty-seventh-st, north to the Harlem River. The other tweive will go to the West Side and take in the district between Ninety-first and One-hundred-and-forty-fith-st. After finishing these districts the inspectors will examine the tanks below Sixty-first-st., on the West Side.

HEAVY WEATHER REPORTED AT SEA. All incoming steamships at this port yesterday reported having encountered unusually heavy weather at sea on Tuesday, lasting through Wednesday night. The Michigan from London, the Dunstan from Manaos, and the Westmeath from Hamburg labored for two days under a stress of weather such as they have seldom met with. Captain Johnson, of the Westmeath, said yesterday that at the son, of the Westmeath, said yesterday that at the height of the storm a magnificent spectacular effect was produced by the play of zigzag lightning upon an inky-black sky. Sheet upon sheet of lightning followed each other with great rapidity, and the crew in alarm took shelter below decks. The rain fell in a deluge.

Captain Mann, of the steamer Menantic, reported having sighted an iceberg on July 9 at latitude 47.01, longitude 46.56. The berg, he said, appeared to be 215 feet high and 440 feet long.

A STEAMBOAT'S PADDLE-WHEEL BROKEN. The side-wheel steamer John Sylvester, plying be-tween South Ferry and Bay Ridge, while making her New-York slip yesterday broke her port paddlewheel. Her passengers were landed, and she was afterward towed out for repairs by the tug Sterling, and the ferryboat Westfield took her place.

LIBERTY ISLAND'S WILLOW TREE DOWN The large willow tree on the west side of Bedlow's Island, which has been there longer than the memory of living man goes back, was blown down in Wednesday afternoon's sudden storm. The tree was in the old graveyard, near the Statue of Liberty, and was a familiar object to all visitors to the island. Its trunk was sixteen feet in circumference.

AT LAW ABOUT THE BABY'S NAME.

From The Albany Law Journal.

The question as to whether the naming of the baby belongs an a matter of right, to the baby's father or to the baby's mother is raised in a queer lawsuit originating in Eastkill. In the heart of the Catskill Mountains. The plaintiff is Ole Halverson, a Swede, who cultivates a small farm on the mountain side. He has sued for damages the Rev. J. G. Remerton, a German Lutheran minister of the same place, and the pleadings set forth the following state of facts: Mr. and Mrs. Halverson have a son of tender years. The former desired that the boy should be called Oscar, after the present monarch of Mr. Halverson's fatheriand. Mrs. Halverson dislikes the name of Oscar and was determined that the baby should not be burdened therewith. Mr. and Mrs. Halverson took the baby to the clergyman to be christened.

Mr. Halverson requested the minister to name the child Oscar, but Mrs. Halverson had already taiked the reverend gentleman over, and to Mr. Halverson's surprise and indignation the boy was christened not Oscar, but something else, whereby Mr. Halverson suffered serious disappointment, loss of authority in his household, laceration of feelings, etc., for which he prays damages. The clergyman's defence is that he christened the child in accordance with the wishes of the mother, whose rights in the premises he considered paramount. The case brings up a novel question in jurisprudence, the decision of which will be regarded with interest in thousands of families throughout the land. From The Albany Law Journal.

Inspector Donohue of the Customs Department noticed a bunch in Muller's hip pocket as he was going ashore and asked him what it was. "Only a few presents for my family," Muller replied. The "presents" were subjected to an examination and were found to include a diamond bracelet worth $1,000, seven unset rubies and considerable small jeweiry. All the articles were seized by the Inspector.

LOCAL BUSINESS COMPLICATIONS

G. M. Miller & Co., wholesale dealers in boys' clothing at Nos. 33 and 35 East Tenth-st., have failed, and their entire stock of goods was removed from the store either late on Wednesday night or early on Thursday morning. Deputy-Sheriff Butler went to the store on Wednesday evening with an attachment for $598 in favor of Herman H. Schwietering & Co. The attachment was paid in full by Gustav H. Miller, the senior partner, about 6 p. m., and the stock in the store was then estimated as being worth at least $10,000 Creditors found the place empty, and it was said that five ments were at once obtained by a number of the ments were at once obtained by a number of the creditors, but when the deputy-sheriff again visited the place he found it closed. Later in the day both partners, Mr. Miller and John V. Hess, called at the office of Blumenstiel & Hirsch and confessed judgments for $5.461 to several creditors. Asked about the disappearance of the stock, Blumenstiel & Hirsch said they learned that the firm had given a bill of sale, and that they understood that the liabilities were about $20,000. The bill of sale was not recorded. Creditors who called at the Sheriff's office yesterday were under the impression that the stock had passed into the possession of a large drygoods store. It was also currently reported that the firm's Washington store had also been sold. The firm was formed in November last. Capital of $34,835 was elaimed, of which Mr. Hess was said to have contributed $10,000.

A CLEVER OMAHA WOMAN

From The Chicago Record.

Among the great mercantile establishments in Omsha only one is under the supervision of a woman. For nine years Mrs. Jennie Benson has conducted this commercial enterprise, each year enlarging her business, until to-day it is next to the largest store in the city. She is an Omaha woman and employs only women. She does her own purchasing, making trips to Chicago and New-York. Mrs. Benson is on the sunny side of forty, and, in addition to being one of the leading merchanis of the city, is a society favorite and one of the handsomest women in Omaha. She finds time from her business duties to give considerable attention to literature and to society. Altogether, she is regarded as a most extraordinary woman. All of the immense capital she is now handling is the result of her own labors.

**NO CLOAKMAKERS*** STRIKE YET.**

Up to a late hour last night the Executive Committee of the United Brotherhood of Cloakmakers, who had threatened to order a strike of the entire trade on July 15 unless the bosses granted their new demands, had failed to make their threat good, it was alleged that the reason why the strike was not ordered was that Joseph Barondess had refused at the last moment to lead the strikers.

A member of the Brotherhood said last night that the danger of a strike had by no means been averted. The strike would involve about one thousand cloakmakers. The busy season in the cloakmaking industry will soon begin, and it is thought that the bosses will agree to a compromise of the guestions at issue rather than have a strike.

NO TRACE OF ROBERT W. BULLOCK.

RECEIVER OF HOLMES, BRUMLEY & CO. DISAPPEARS-SERIOUS ILLNESS BE-LIEVED TO BE THE CAUSE.

Serious illness is believed to have caused the disopearance of Robert W. Bullock, the receiver of lolmes. Brumley & Co., the wholesale candy corporation, at No. 83 Warren-st., which failed in ousiness six weeks ago. When the corporation failed its assets were believed to amount to $28,000 and its liabilities were about $14,000, Mr. Bullock the request of Robert A. Keasby, the merchant, at No. 54 Warren-st., who had been president of the corporation for some time. Mr. Bullock was a young man who had been employed in the coal office of S. L. Simpson, at No. 44 Broadway. He lived at No. 356 West One-hundred-and-sixteenth-st, with his father, L. L. Bullock, who had been connected with the coal company.

Young Mr. Bullock began his duties as receiver in a systematic way, and engaged Peck & Field, of Brooklyn, as the attorneys to aid in winding up the affairs of the corporation. Finding that the stock and machinery of the concern were likely to be sacrificed if sold at auction, he obtained permission of the Court to sell on private terms portions of the stock which were most valuable and in demand, and nearly all of the machinery. ers' Loan and Trust Company. The remnant of the stock was to be sold at auction, with the fixtures and furniture. About a week before June 1 Mr. Bullock went away, leaving the store in charge of G. W. Scheminant, who had been in the employ of the corporation and had been retained by the receiver as superintendent. Mr. Bullock had been suffering from violent headaches, and had been advised to go to the seasone for a rest, but when he left the city he told no one where he A few days later Mr. Scheminant received a short letter from Bullock, dated at Poughkeepsie, say-ing that he would be back in the city in time to attend the auction sale. Mr. Bullock did not appear before the sale, however, and it was necessary to blow open the office safe, which was to be sold, as no one except the receiver knew the combination. The books in the safe were found intact, and there were some checks payable to the corporation which Mr. Bullock had not cashed. There was every reason to believe that the receiver had performed his duties honestly, and illness was believed to be the reason for his absence. Efforts were made to find Mr. Bullock, but he could not be found in Poughkeepsle or traced from that city. His father had gone to Connecticut for the summer, without knowing of the disappearance of the young man. Since then many inquiries have been made, but Mr. Keasby and the attorneys for the corporation have not been able to get any information about his recent movements, and he has sent no word to any one, so far as they know.

Mr. Peck, of the law firm, has consulted the American Surety Company, which was on young sary to blow open the office safe, which was to be Mr. Peck, of the law firm, has consulted the American Surety Company, which was on young Mr. Bullock's bond, and the police may be asked to ald in a search for the young man. The creditors of the corporation do not feel alarmed, because the money collected by the sale of the company's stock and machinery is safe, but the money cannot be paid over to the creditors except on the order of the Court, and the absence of the receiver makes a long delay probable. There is a fear that young Mr. Bullock has become too ill to communicate with his friends, or that he has met foul play. The young man's father was a California ploneer, and was identified with the Vigilance Committee in San Francisco. Later he was Controller of the State of California, and was engaged in shipbuilding. He owns property in this city and in Westchester County. Young Mr. Bullock was said to have been a member of the 22d Regiment and connected with its signal corps.

THE SYSTEM WORKING WELL.

COLONEL WARING TALKS OF THE RESULTS OF HIS PLAN TO DISPOSE OF GARBAGE.

Doubtless there have been some complaints from those who dwell along the coast of Long Island and New-Jersey this year concerning the collections of the Street Cleaning Department of this city. which are towed out to sea and there dumped, and occasionally are carried by the tide on to the shore; but these complaints have not been nearly so nu-merous as heretofore, and when they are investigated it is found that what is complained of is not garbage or that sort of rubbish that will by decaying prove not only unsightly, but unhealthful. During other summer seasons the nulsance was so reasonable complaints. But the system of disposi-tion of waste and condemned fruit in large quantities has been changed in the last sear. On January the new order of things went into effect, and since then the quantities of decaying rubbish that used to create so much complaint have not been towed out to the ocean and turned loose, to find their way whithersoever they would. They have been taken to Barren Island and there disposed of by the plant erected there for the purpose.

Colonel Waring yesterday told a Tribune reporter that this system had worked very satisfactorily indeed. Until recently, he said, method of disposing of vegetable refuse had not been applied to what matter of that sort was found in the street sweepings, and that there had conse-In the street sweepings, and that there had consequently been some complaint on that score; but within the last few days it had been arranged to send all the vegetable matter collected by the "angels" to Barren Island along with the larger quantities of the same material that had been so treated since January I. It was expected, the Commissioner said, that there would be no more complaints from this cause.

sioner said, that there would be no more companies from this cause.

The Commissioner also said that many complaints had come in of refuse drifting upon various points of the seacoast, which were not founded upon fact. He admitted that some of the sweepings towed out to sea and dumped did find their way even now to the coast, but he implied that these things were not of the sort that would prove a nuisance to the places near where they appeared.

CORPORAL M'DONNELL'S FUNERAL. The funeral of Corporal McDonnell, who was lled by lightning at the State Camp at Peekskill on Monday, was held yesterday at St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, in Thirty-second-st., near Ninth-ave. A detail of eight men from the 22d Regiment, under the command of Corporal Scheusser, acted as pallbearers and marched beside the hearse. The young soldier's mother, his three brothers and als two sisters, both married, were present. The young woman to whom he was engaged, Miss Emily Merrigan, was also present, with her brother, Dr. Merrigan. The floral offerings included a shield of roses from Company A, of the 22d Regiment, and an appropriate design from the employes in the West Shore Railroad office, where young McDonnell worked.

The Rev. John Gleason said a low mass of requiem. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery. hearse. The young soldier's mother, his three adopted the "free access" system in two new Riverside branch, in West Sixty-eighth-st. and the Yorkville branch, at Second-ave, and Seventy-ninth-st. Under that system the people halp themselves to books, having free access to the shelves, and have their names entered as they leave the library. The advantages of the system are believed to outweigh the danger of theft. People get the books they want without long waiting, and by an examination of the books on a shelf many persons can more easily decide what books they

FREE ACCESS TO BOOKS. New-York Free Circulating Library has

The adoption of the system is looked upon by the trustees of the library as something of an experiment, and while it is a permanency in those branches where it has now obtained a foothold, it would be too soon to predict its early extension to the older branches. For one thing, the adoption of the system would make necessary the entire remodelling of the interior of those branches, and in some cases there would not be room enough for the open-shelf arangement. In the new system it is desirable that only the walls should be shelved. Alcoves or detached shelves make it impossible for those in charge to see all parts of the room at once.
